BETTER A34 LINK PLEDGE

FATHER Christmas paid a visit to Abingdon on Saturday as part of the town's annual parade and Christmas Extravaganza celebrations.

Thousands of visitors lined the streets to watch Santa ride his sleigh.

The town's Christmas light switch-on and fireworks display ended the day.

PLANS to build south-facing slip roads at the Lodge Hill junction on the A34 have moved a step forward after the project was given government support on Monday.

The news was announced as part of £50million measures to improve the A34 throughout the county.

But although the cash includes Highways Agency upgrades to the Botley and Pear Tree roundabouts in Oxford, Lodge Hill was not granted money because it is a council-owned junction - not a Highways Agency project.

But the government pledged to look into financing the project to add the extra slip roads at Lodge Hill.

Oxfordshire County Council, which owns Lodge Hill, is currently working on a bid to apply for government funding to turn it into a diamond interchange in an effort to reduce congestion.

And Oxford West and Abingdon MP Nicola Blackwood said she would keep pressuring the government to secure funding for the project.

She said: "Unfortunately Lodge Hill couldn't be included in this announcement because all of these projects had to be Highways Agency-owned.

"But I've been to the Chancellor (George Osborne) to talk about why that money is so important so we'll keep fighting for funding.

"I believe that junction is needed right now and we will continue to fight as hard as possible to ensure it is addressed because it will make a difference not just in Abingdon but all along the A34."

Vale of White Horse District Council leader Matthew Barber said he is pleased the need to upgrade Lodge Hill was raised on Monday.

He added: "This puts Lodge Hill right at the top of everybody's agenda.

"It's on the list for the county council, and I fully expect it will be the next major junction to get some significant investment.

"The extra housing (announced in the Vale's local plan) has focused the minds of the county council and they have recognised the importance of that junction."

Sex trafficking arrests at Oxford guest house

POLICE say they are in the early stages of investigating reports of sexual exploitation in Oxford after two people were arrested following a warrant at a Cowley Road guest house last Thursday.

Twenty Thames Valley Police officers searched the Athena Guest House at 8pm on November 27 after reports of prostitution and sexual exploitation in the city.

A 45-year-old man and a 25-year-old woman were arrested on suspicion of intentionally arranging for people to enter the country to engage in sexual exploitation.

As the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print they were both in police custody.

Police officers also searched seven other properties across the city on November 27, while officers also held a warrant for a house in Cowley Road on Friday night after separate reports of possible prostitution and sexual exploitation.

Sgt Neil Applegarth from the East Oxford Neighbourhood Team said: "We are in the very early stages of this investigation and so I ask if anyone has any information to contact us immediately.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"Officers will continue to patrol on Cowley Road, so if you have any questions relating to this operation, please don't hesitate to approach them."

Five women were taken from the guest house and will be offered support by trained police officers.

Local Policing Area commander Supt Christian Bunt added: "We take every report of possible prostitution and sexual exploitation extremely seriously and will continue to target premises across the city, which are involved in this kind activity."

The arrests came after seven men were jailed for a minimum of 95 years in June 2013 after being found guilty of raping, facilitating child prostitution, and trafficking of young girls in Oxford.

They were convicted at the Old Bailey in London in May 2013 following a two-year investigation into child sex exploitation called Operation Bullfinch and a four-month trial.

Anyone who has information should call police on 101.

City to get share of £114m cycle fund

OXFORD has been named as one of eight cities set to receive a share of a £114million grant to improve cycling provision in the city.

Deputy Prime Minister Nick Clegg announced the recipients of the Cycle City Ambition Grant last Thursday to fund the development of local cycling networks.

It follows previous investment into improving cycling in Oxford, such as the £835,000 given by government for work at The Plain roundabout in the city.

David Nimmo Smith, Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet member for transport, said: "This is excellent news for cyclists in Oxfordshire.

"We are currently drawing up plans to create a fully connected cycling network to encourage existing and new cyclists to cycle more often."

He continued: "This will allow for a greater range of transport methods, hopefully taking more cars off the roads and improve traffic flow, improving journeys for all users in and around the city."

The other cities competing for a share of the grant are Bristol, Birmingham, Cambridge, Leeds, Manchester, Newcastle and Norwich.

Mr Clegg said: "The inspiration and legacy of the 2012 Olympics and the Tour de France starting in Yorkshire this year has started a revolution in cycling for everyone.

"Now we need the public and local authorities to jump on their bikes and get us to the finish line."

Serious assault

OXFORD: A 25-year-old man has been left hospitalised with serious head injuries after an assault in Bonn Square on November 30.

The assault happened shortly before 3am and a 26-year-old man has been bailed until January 26 after being arrested on suspicion of causing grievous bodily harm with intent.

The victim is currently in a serious but stable condition at the John Radcliffe Hospital in Headley Way.

Witnesses should call police on 101.

Chief's new role

OXON: The chief constable of Thames Valley Police Sara Thornton (pictured) has stepped down to become the chair of a new association for senior police officers.

She will begin her new role as head of the National Police Chiefs' Council in April 2015.

Ms Thornton said after 14 years she leaves Thames Valley Police with a "heavy heart".

She added: "I could happily stay here, but there is a sense of which it is time to move on and face a new challenge."

Brewery plans

OXFORD: A new brewery could be set up in Oxford if a crowd funding scheme proves to be successful.

Brewer Steve Chroscicki is planning to move to premises beneath the post office in St Aldates if he is able to raise £185,000 from supporters.

He said: "We came on a weekend break here and were surprised at how cosmopolitan and busy it was.

"It seemed like a good place to open a brewery."

If the funding is gathered, which Steve is hoping to have completed by the end of January, the brewery could open soon afterwards.

Vale set to decide on West Way's future

A PLANNING committee were recommended to approve the £100million plans to redevelop West Way in Botley last night despite widespread objections.

The Vale of White Horse District Council's planning committee met as the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print.

Officer Stuart Walker had recommended the developers Doric's plans for a supermarket, cinema, hotel, gym, shops, 50 flats, and 525 student rooms for approval with 49 conditions bolted to the application.

The development would see West Way shopping centre, Elms Parade shops, Field house sheltered housing and the empty Elms Court office block demolished.

Residents group West Way Community Concern has been campaigning against the plans and objected on grounds of over development.

Oxford City Council objected, as well as North Hinksey and Cumnor parish councils.

Nicola Blackwood, MP for Oxford West and Abingdon, was also opposed to the plans due to its scale, density and appearance and the impact on local businesses.

Extravaganza of fun in Abingdon

THOUSANDS of people gathered in Abingdon on Saturday as the town celebrated its annual Christmas Extravaganza.

Dancers, singers and fire jugglers performed in the Market Place throughout the day, with a range of stalls also on offer across the town centre.

Residents and visitors lined the streets for the parade at Midday, which saw town dignitaries, street artists and Father Christmas make their way along Stert Street, East St Helen Street, West St Helen Street and back round to end at the Market Place.

And the grand finale saw the Christmas lights officially switched on at 5.30pm, followed by a fireworks display.

"It just got better and better," said Abingdon's mayor Angela Lawrence, who took part in the parade.

"It was a really wonderful day, and the grand finale was switching on the lights, which a couple of young children did having been drawn from the raffle to do it.

"And then the fireworks were just magnificent and there was carol singing around the tree afterwards. The whole day was just fantastic."

One of the performances came from the Abingdon Rock Choir, who performed twice during the day in the Market Place.

Choir leader Kat Penn said: "It was the first performance we've done in Abingdon, so it was nice to get seen out and about.

"The audience was fab, really accepting, and I got some good feedback from my members, so it all went very well."

The next extravaganza will take place on November 28, 2015.

Fatal collision

ABINGDON: An 81-year-old woman was killed when she was hit by a car at Lodge Hill last Wednesday.

At around 5pm, the woman was walking along the A4183 Oxford Road when she was hit by a Ford Focus.

She was pronounced dead at the scene.

The road was closed from the A34 slip road to Lodge Hill roundabout for around three hours after the accident.

Anyone with information is asked to call police on 101.

Students win

ABINGDON: A group of students from Abingdon School have won the 'Bin Business Challenge' held at the EntrepreneurLive! conference in Birmingham.

Oliver Moody, Ben Wilson, Rob MacLennan and Joseph Salter won the challenge with their idea to take used bicycle parts and turn them into new home products.

They received a trophy and money to invest in their company, called Be.spoke, as their competition prize.

Footfall rise

ABINGDON: Footfall in Abingdon town centre is up by 44 per cent, figures released by Vale of White Horse District Council have revealed.

Surveys carried out in September and October showed that there was an increase in visitors compared to the same period last year, at the same time the national average fell by 0.8 per cent

Wantage's increase was 30 per cent, while Faringdon's footfall rose by eight per cent.

Town could get flood defence funding

A SCHEME designed to prevent flooding in Oxford also includes a proposal for Abingdon, the town's MP has said.

Oxford West and Abingdon MP Nicola Blackwood revealed the Abingdon Defence Scheme is being developed to provide added protection around the Ock and the Thames.

The news came on Tuesday as she and Prime Minister David Cameron announced £42million of funding to put towards the construction a flood channel through Oxford.

Speaking about the Abingdon Defence Scheme, Ms Blackwood said: "The proposals are not as developed as the relief channel because it is a newer scheme.

"But it was put forward to the regional flood and coastal committee and they believe that the cost benefit analysis for that scheme is very favourable.

"I am determined that the scheme will be funded alongside the Oxford relief channel."

It comes following concerns earlier this year that the relief channel would divert water downstream to Abingdon.

Mr Cameron added: "The Environment Agency doesn't believe that there will be a bad impact on downstream towns.

"But there is a group already meeting to see what more can be done to help Abingdon."

Lodge Hill gets support

• From front page

Improvements on the A34 at the Botley and Pear Tree roundabouts, as well as installing electronic signs and CCTV cameras to enhance traffic monitoring, were also announced.

Prime Minister David Cameron said: "The A34 is a road in which I have spent most of my life on.

"It is a much used road, and we have to look at long term solutions as well but I think it is very welcome that the money is there."

See page 5 for the full story about the A34 improvements confirmed on Monday.

Carnival's Christmas fundraiser

A CAROL service raising money for the annual Cowley Road Carnival will see Christmas tunes ringing from the halls of St Mary and St John Church on Sunday.

Carols for Carnival, a community event with traditional readings and carols, will begin at the Magdalen Road church at 3.30pm on December 7.

All money raised from the day will go towards the summer Cowley Road Carnival with organisers hoping to raise £120,000 across various events for next year's festivities.

Organisation Cowley Road Works run the carnival.

Executive director Danielle Battigelli said: "Carnival is all about celebrating our vibrant community on the Cowley Road.

"So forget the shopping this Sunday and rejoice in the season with us instead."

Next year's carnival will be held on July 5 and Ms Battigelli added: "We are already well into planning for next year.

"Carnival is about community, and we want to get as many community organisations involved as possible."

A34 improvements given the go ahead

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

IMPROVEMENT work at two Oxford junctions on the A34 is set to go ahead after £50million of government funding for the projects was announced on Monday.

The Pear Tree and Botley roundabouts will be upgraded in an attempt to improve traffic flow on the busy dual carriageway through Oxfordshire.

Money will also be spent on electronic signs and CCTV cameras to warn drivers of congestion, and divert them to another route.

And a feasibility study into the possibility of constructing a link road from Oxford to Milton Keynes and Cambridge was also announced, as well as the possibility of making the Lodge Hill junction in Abingdon a diamond interchange.

Oxford West and Abingdon MP Nicola Blackwood met with culture secretary Sajid Javid at the Pear Tree roundabout on Monday morning to announce the A34 investment.

She said: "I am absolutely delighted that we've managed to convince the treasury at last that we need investment on the A34.

"The immediate improvements to the Pear Tree and Botley roundabouts will really reduce accidents and therefore congestion.

"And also the traffic management system will enable drivers to plan their journeys much more effectively, so if they're at Newbury they will know if there's an accident as far up as junction 9 of the M40.

"This is what I've fought for over the last two and a half years, and is what the residents of Oxford West and Abingdon who have been sitting in traffic misery needed to hear is on the horizon."

Mr Javid added: "A key part of having a growing economy, having more jobs, is having a modern infrastructure.

"So it's not just good from a quality of life point of view, but it's also hugely important from an investment and jobs point of view.

"If we want the jobs and investment in the Oxford area and elsewhere in England to continue, we need to keep investing in infrastructure."

• Nicola Blackwood and Sajid Javid made the announcement at the Pear Tree roundabout on Monday

The news comes as work is due to begin next month at the Milton and Chilton interchanges in the south of the county, and as upgrades to the Hinksey roundabout are expected to finish.

Details about the Botley and Pear Tree roundabout improvement work will be announced in due course.

Bicester set for £100m garden city expansion

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

BICESTER is to get garden city status with up to 13,000 homes, the government announced on Tuesday.

Deputy prime minister Nick Clegg revealed the £100million plans as a measure to build more affordable homes.

It is understood the homes would be built on brownfield land close to the town currently owned by the Ministry of Defence.

Money would be used to improve road infrastructure around Bicester, including junction 9 of the M40, and for a new railway station.

Mr Clegg said: "The Liberal Democrats have long argued that garden cities are an idea whose time has come again.

"I am delighted Bicester can now be confirmed as a pioneer in what I hope will be another wave of garden cities in this country.

• Sir Tony Baldry

"This is a significant victory for the approach championed by the coalition government, where local areas put their hand up and say we want to become a garden city or town."

Garden cities are a form of urban planning that sees houses built in self-contained communities surrounded by greenbelt land.

Ebbsfleet in Kent was announced this year as the first modern garden city to be created, following in the footsteps of Letchworth and Welwyn in Hertfordshire.

North Oxfordshire MP Sir Tony Baldry added: "I very much welcome the proposal that Bicester should become a garden city.

"It obviously makes sense to build as many new houses as possible on brownfield land and to minimise the amount of new housing development in Cherwell that has to be built on green fields.

"It will make Bicester a community with the potential to be one of England's most exciting communities as we go forward into the 21st century."

• Deputy Prime Minister Nick Clegg

But the news received a mixed reaction on Twitter, with Patricia Brayshaw writing about the news: "I live in Bicester and won't be 'chuffed' 'til the roads are sorted. Bicester Village causes chaos each weekend."

David Kempster wrote: "New garden city for Bicester – right idea, plenty of space, good access, new job hub – but needs delivery."

And Stuart Crow tweeted: "Nobody asked Bicester if it wanted to double in size."

'John Lewis wins festive ads contest'

AN OXFORD academic has predicted department store John Lewis will be the big winners this Christmas as a result of its Monty the penguin ad.

The country's big stores and supermarkets have released their festive adverts to encourage shoppers through their doors.

And professor Nancy Puccinelli, an expert in consumer marketing at Oxford University's Said Business School, ruled John Lewis' £7million advert will come out on top.

Prof Puccinelli said: "The John Lewis ad, which doesn't really focus on specific products but does present an idealised, rather up-market picture of a family Christmas, will do very well."

However, according to Prof Puccinelli, Boots, Sainsbury's, Tesco and Waitrose will struggle to attract more customers through their adverts.

She added: "The current Sainsbury's 1914 and Boots Boxing day ads are interesting because, while they both feature heart-warming stories, I don't think they tap into the idea of indulgence, which is what will get consumers spending more.

"The Waitrose ad contains a sweet story, but its message seems to be rather a utilitarian one."

Charity website wiped by anti-Israel hackers

AN OXFORD-BASED charity website was hacked and its content deleted just days after it won a national award for its work.

Healthtalk.org was taken over by an anti-Israel hacker collective on November 23, just six days after winning the Good Web Guide's charity website of the year award.

The site is now back up and running normally, but the charity's chief executive Luís Carrasqueiro is at a loss as to why their website was attacked.

"It was very hard to believe and inexplicable, we can't understand why we would be targeted," he said.

"The website supports thousands of people every day so obviously our first priority was to get the site back up quickly.

"With just three staff it could have been a nightmare but luckily we had a viable back up from a few days before the hack took place."

Healthtalk.org was launched in 2001 by the late Oxford GP Ann McPherson, and reaches audiences of 2.3million people per year.

It was set up to document people's experiences with various illnesses and health conditions after Dr McPherson found she couldn't find anyone to speak with about what it was like to have breast cancer.

After being hacked on the Sunday, the website was fixed and online again last Wednesday.

Luís added: "We're relieved that the website is back online reaching those who need it."

Princess Royal pays a visit to Oxford to mark YOS's birthday

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

PRINCESS Anne made a special visit to the county last Friday to celebrate the 15th birthday of a youth offending service.

The Oxfordshire Youth Offending Service (YOS), which was set up by the county council in 1999, brings together victims of crime and offenders to restore justice.

As well as celebrating its birthday, the Princess Royal also presented the group with a Quality Mark for Restorative Service award at its Oxford Business Park base.

The award confirms the YOS is providing a safe and sustainable restorative service.

Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet member for children, education and families Melinda Tilley said she is proud of the service's work.

She continued: "This is a very positive and public confirmation of the Youth Offending Service's work, and of course a great honour.

"We are proud of the service's history, and of its innovative and child-centred approach.

"The Restorative Justice Quality Mark demonstrates that the public can have confidence in what we do."

During last Friday's visit, Princess Anne met staff and learnt about the service's work.

The YOS works to prevent re-offending, encourage people to take responsibility for their actions and reintegrate offenders into the community.

Thames Valley Police works closely with the service and chief inspector Mick Saunders believes it plays a key role.

Ch Insp Saunders said: "Oxfordshire's YOS is a genuine community asset.

"Whilst highly responsive to victim needs, the team here work in close partnership to address successfully the individual needs of offenders, however complex.

"The YOS has played a key role in reducing youth offending and creating life opportunities."

Cassington dad set for Channel plunge

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A DAD of two from Cassington will take to the chilly and jellyfish ridden waters of the English Channel in 2016 to raise money for a teenage cancer charity.

Piers Lewis, 46, who works as a self-employed gardener and clay shooting instructor, plans to complete the 21-mile challenge in July 2016.

He says his wife Susanna thinks he is a "little bit silly" for agreeing to the challenge, while his sons Oliver, 4, and Harry, 6, aspire to follow in their dad's swimming strokes.

Mr Lewis, who currently trains at the lakes near Berinsfield off the A415, hopes to raise £20,000 for the Teenage Cancer Trust, but admits he is nervous about the challenge.

He said: "I am laying bricks every time I think about it.

"The jellyfish, the boats, the cold water; hyperthermia is quite a big killer.

"There are a million and one things to take into consideration and talk to a lot of people about and you rely on the support boat to get you to the other side."

Mr Lewis said he chose the Teenage Cancer Trust because he has friends who were diagnosed at a young age.

He continued: "Cancer is quite a big thing.

"Everybody has been touched by cancer and you pull the heart strings when you bring children into any situation.

"The channel is one of the ultimate challenges; you can't put your feet down and you have to keep going."

He will now spend the next 18 months juggling training and open water swims around his work and family life, as well as working on adjusting his body to the challenges of the channel waters.

Mr Lewis, who could spend 14 hours swimming, added: "It's endurance just being able to swim for that period of time.

"You have to be able to train in 14°C and Berinsfield is well below what I need to swim but if you can get your body acclimatised to that shock, the more so the better."

Albert named as runner-up Hero

A THAMES Valley Police (TVP) horse that was in the running for a top animal award has just missed out on claiming the main prize.

Albert, a 17-year-old Irish draught cross, was named runner-up at the RSPCA and Daily Mirror Animal Hero Awards last Wednesday.

He had been nominated for his work at demonstrations between members of the English Defence League and anti-fascist protestors at a rally in Brighton in 2012.

And despite losing out to police dog Fuzz in the public sector category, Albert was still able to spend the evening meeting celebrities including singer Alexandra Burke and TV presenter Bill Oddie.

PC Kevin Simmons, from TVP's mounted section, said: "We are ecstatic that one of our horses was recognised for the work that they do for us.

"It was a privilege to be amongst such amazing people and animals and hear their heart-warming stories."

He has also worked at numerous events including the Olympics, as well as protecting members of the royal family.

And after his evening out at Grosvenor House in London for the awards ceremony, Albert was back to work patrolling in Milton Keynes the following afternoon.

Pedestrian hurt

WOODSTOCK: A 49-year-old man was taken to hospital with leg injuries after he was hit by a car in Woodstock on November 24.

A silver Ford Mondeo was driving on the A44 near the junction with the B4437 when collided with a pedestrian at about 8am.

The driver spoke to police.

Homes granted

BLETCHINGDON: Planning permission was given to 58 new homes and a shop on land north of Station Road by Cherwell District Council last Thursday.

It comes after outline planning permission was given for a primary school, a village hall, and the homes and shop last year.

Michael Gibbard, Cherwell's lead member for planning, said: "Having reviewed the proposals, officers are satisfied with the detailed plans for the area and were happy to approve."

Man charged

OXFORD: A man will appear at Oxford Crown Court on December 12 after being charged for possession with intent to supply drugs.

He was arrested on November 25 and charged the next day with possession with intent to supply a Class A and Class B drug and money laundering.

He is remanded in custody.

Contraflow misery coming to an end

• Work on the southern bypass was due to finish last week

THE contraflow that has caused traffic misery in south Oxford since the summer is due to be removed on Monday.

It has been in place since July while resurfacing work was carried out on each carriageway.

Work had been due to finish in early November but was delayed by four weeks, which Oxfordshire County Council put down to bad weather.

But the council announced yesterday that the contraflow would be removed this coming week.

It also revealed that other major roadwork schemes across the county would be suspended from Monday until the New Year to help ease congestion over the busy Christmas period.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"This will be welcome news for anyone who has been caught up in congestion while roadworks are being done," said council leader Ian Hudspeth.

"[It's good news] also for traders and businesses keen to make the most of the busiest shopping time of the year.

"For a number of years Oxfordshire County Council has worked closely with utility companies and our own workforce to ensure that non-essential jobs are not done for almost a month over Christmas.

"This is done so that the busiest time of the year for many retailers and members of the public is helped to be successful thanks to improved traffic conditions."

Exceptions to the scheme are the roadworks on Worcester Street in Oxford, which will continue until December 15, while the resurfacing of London Road in Headington will continue over Christmas.

Work to complete the Kennington roundabout and Hinksey Hill Interchange, which has been carried out in conjunction with the southern bypass improvements, is expected to finish on December 19.

The council said that some lane closures at off-peak times would be put in place between Monday and December 19 while traffic lights are installed and lines are painted on the roads.

Busy mayoral month

WITH Remembrance Sunday and Armistice Day early last month and with 2014 marking the 100th anniversary of the start of the First World War, many events have had a military theme.

One of which was the annual Remembrance Sunday Parade and service.

I was pleased to see such a large number of people watch the parade and attend the service at the town war memorial.

I have been honoured and humbled to be invited to take part in some commemorative events.

Such as the tree planting at Edmonds Park, as well as the rededication of the role of honour at the Didcot Railway Centre.

Towards the end of the month it was time for another Didcot annual tradition, the Christmas Street Fair, which was organised by the Chamber of Commerce.

Once again it was an excellent event and was well attended.

It was a very busy evening for Penny and I and we enjoyed it all.

More information about my activities is on my blog on the Didcot Town Council website at didcot.gov.uk.

And as this will be my last column for the Oxfordshire Guardian before Christmas I would like to take this opportunity now to wish you all a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Futures Partnership event hailed a success

A BUSINESS-EDUCATION collaboration is giving Oxfordshire college students valuable hints and tips on making a start in the world of work.

The collaboration is between Witney Business & Innovation Centre and Abingdon & Witney College, and is known as the Futures Partnership.

By Kelly Lea
news@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Its latest initiative saw a class of 17 BTEC Level 3 Business students link up with business people, including representatives of locally-based Wolf Productions, Smooga, Fabulous Biker Boys and Olamula.

Students were given advice about job hunting, the application process, interview skills and following up.

The event culminated with the opportunity for the students to put their networking skills to the test.

Joe Ciampoli-Messiou, 16, from Witney, said: "Today has given me an idea about what I'd like to do in the future and how I should approach an employer who has a job that really interests me."

Ellie Sarahs, 17, from Bampton, added: "We have had the opportunity to meet people from a lot of different industries which will help with our careers."

Students were also treated to an inspirational keynote speech at the collaboration event by Chris Allington, MD of Oxford Innovation.

He said: "I hope that some of what I shared with the students today inspires them to become our next generation of entrepreneurs."

The Abingdon & Witney College-Witney Business & Innovation Centre collaboration is supported by the centre's landlord, Blenheim Palace.

New support to save pubs

RURAL communities support organisation, the Plunkett Foundation, has announced a new support package to help communities save their local pub as a co-operative.

Funded by the Department for Communities and Local Government, the £50,000 package will enable the Plunkett Foundation to deliver help to the growing number of communities across England at risk of losing their local.

Already operating a specialist advice line for co-operative pubs, the Plunkett Foundation will now be able to extend support even further to include specialist advice, funded study visits, mentoring support and peer-to-peer learning.

Plunkett's chief executive Peter Couchman said: "We're delighted to be able to extend support to communities looking to save their pub as a co-operative for the whole community to enjoy."

Funding boost for West Oxon shared services

A PARTNERSHIP of four councils, including West Oxfordshire District Council (WODC), has been awarded £2.9million of government funding to support its joint-working programme.

The news was announced last Friday, and is on top of £900,000 already allocated to the councils' 2020 Vision scheme by government.

It is hoped the programme will enable the councils – WODC, Cotswold District Council, Cheltenham Borough Council and Forest of Dean District Council – to cut costs through joint working.

WODC leader Barry Norton said: "We welcome this grant from government.

"At the heart of the programme is our commitment to safeguarding frontline services.

"Having government support and confidence in our efficiencies programme is significant as we look to take the next steps forward."

The money was given to the councils as part of the latest round of funding from the Transformation Challenge Fund, which the government makes available to authorities who share services

It will be used by WODC to look at setting up an ICT infrastructure, establish interim management and expand waste depot services.

Jayden's Oxford hostel set to close next year

By Jack Johnson

• CCTV showing Jayden Parkinson leaving One Foot Forward to meet Ben Blakeley

AN IFFLEY Road hostel where pregnant teenager Jayden Parkinson was staying when she was murdered will shut next year.

One Foot Forward in Oxford will shut on March 31, 2015.

Oxfordshire County Council will transfer residents to other accommodation.

Jayden, 17, was living at the hostel in December 2013 when CCTV images show her leaving to meet 22-year-old ex-boyfriend Ben Blakeley, of Christchurch Road, Reading.

He strangled her in an Upton field on December 3 and buried her in his uncle's grave in a cemetery by All Saints Church, Didcot.

Housing company BCHA run One Foot Forward and said it made a "strategic decision" not to apply for a new contract to the county council.

Spokesperson Jennifer Osborne said: "As of April 2015, BCHA will no longer be delivering supported housing services for young people in Oxford.

"This service contract was tendered by Oxfordshire County Council earlier this year under its standard contract arrangements, and BCHA made a strategic decision not to tender for this new contract.

"We understand Oxfordshire County Council do not intend to use the Iffley Road property as part of the newly commissioned young people's pathway."

Spokesman Paul Smith said the county council had "long planned to recommission supported housing provision".

He added: "BCHA, the organisation that runs One Foot Forward on the Iffley Road, has decided not to make a bid as part of this normal process.

"As a consequence of this, the service will be decommissioned by March 31, 2015.

"We are working with the provider and Oxford City Council to ensure that the young people currently residing there safely transfer to other provision."

BCHA say the property will be handed back to Oxford City Council at the end of March, under the terms of the lease.

City council spokesman Chofamba Sithole said a decision" on the building would be made in the New Year.

Drugs arrest

OXFORD: A man, woman and teenager have been arrested on suspicion of possession with intent to supply Class A and B drugs.

A 24-year-old woman, 26-year-old man and 14-year-old boy were arrested on November 27.

Their arrest came after a police warrant in Marjoram Close, Blackbird Leys, where a quantity of cocaine and drugs paraphernalia was found.

Labour wins

OXFORD: Labour councillors were elected to all three vacant seats at by-elections held in Oxford last Thursday.

On the city council, Linda Smith was elected for the Blackbird Leys ward, while Sian Taylor won the Northfield Brook seat with 75.7 per cent and 70.1 per cent of the vote respectively.

And Steve Curran was elected for Leys Division on Oxfordshire County Council with 71 per cent of the vote.

UKIP were a distant second in the two Blackbird Leys seats, while the Conservatives were runners-up in Northfield.

All three elections had turnouts of less than 16 per cent.

The elections came after Labour's Val Smith stood down from the two Blackbird Leys posts, while newly-elected county councillor Steve Curran had resigned from his city council seat in Northfield .

WIN ASDA gift cards worth £100!

ASDA

SAVING YOU MONEY EVERY DAY

Asda Wheatley has teamed up with the Oxfordshire Guardian to reward two lucky readers with the chance to stock up on Christmas goodies courtesy of Asda.

Each of the winners will be treated to filling up their cupboards for the festive season with a whole range of delicious seasonal goods to choose from in store. The two winners will each be given £100 worth of Asda gift cards to spend to keep them going over the Christmas period.

Asda Wheatley is open from 7.30am until 10.30pm Monday to Saturday and from 9.45am until 4.00pm on Sundays which means the winners have plenty of opportunities to pop into the store and spend their prizes. Whether it's a last minute dash to pick up some mince pies for Santa or to help towards getting through the children's endless Christmas wish list, Asda Wheatley has everything you could need.

As the cold weather creeps in why not also stop off at the pizza counter and pick up a warm freshly prepared pizza of your choice. They are quick and convenient and have all the toppings you need to prepare yourself for a cosy winter night in front of the TV. Or why not pick up some delicious fresh festive bakes from the bakery counter.

So, to be in with a chance of winning one of our two fabulous prizes, simply answer the following question:

Closing date:
Friday, December 12, 2014

Q: What is the name of Santa's reindeer with the red nose: Prancer, Rudolph or Vixen?

Embrace the music

ALTERNATIVE indie band Embrace are hoping to bring a "whole new level of unpredictability" when they appear at the O2 Academy tomorrow night.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The five-piece, consisting of brothers Danny and Richard McNamara, Steve Firth, Mike Heaton and Mickey Dale, are hitting the Cowley Road venue from 6.30pm on December 5.

Lead guitarist Ricky says the band "throw everything" into their live shows and tomorrow's gig in Oxford will be no different.

"We tend to throw ourselves into it when we play live, and there is definitely a sense of flying by the seat of our pants", the 42-year-old said.

"We've got to recreate the sound of the albums, and our music tends to be quite dense and lush sounding, which can be a bit of a challenge as there are just the five of us.

"I think the most fun we have is when we engage the audience.

"That adds a whole new level of unpredictability that makes each night unique."

Embrace formed in 1993 and hired drummer Mike and bass player Steve after advertising at a Bradford music shop and in a local newspaper.

Despite only releasing six albums in 21 years, the West Yorkshire-based group have enjoyed success.

All of their albums have peaked at 10 or higher in the UK album charts, with three reaching number one.

They also recorded, 'World at Your Feet', the official 2006 World Cup song for England, which peaked at number three.

And singles 'Gravity' and 'Nature's Law' hit the UK charts at number seven and two.

Whatever happens the band will be hoping to at least perform in Oxford this year after an unfortunate turn of events saw them cancel a gig at Oxford Brookes University.

"I think the last time we were due to play Oxford Steve, our bass player, had food poisoning so we had to cancel!," Ricky added.

Tickets cost £21.53 and the event is suitable for anyone over the age of eight.

Bella's set for Didcot

FOLK musician, singer and songwriter Bella Hardy is bringing some festive sparkle on her return to Didcot's Cornerstone Arts Centre this Saturday.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The 30-year-old from Derbyshire is performing at the Station Road venue as part of her UK December tour, which begins tomorrow in Leicester.

Bella, who was voted 2014's Folk Singer of the Year by BBC Radio 2, will perform a selection of Christmas songs and can't wait to return to Didcot on Saturday night.

"I've visited Cornerstone a few times now, most recently with my band when we released my last album 'Battleplan' in the spring of last year," she said.

"It's always a welcoming place and it's really friendly.

"There's a very special feeling at Cornerstone, so it's going to be lovely to bring my December tour there."

Bella will perform a selection of well-known Christmas songs as well as other popular covers.

She added: "The audience can expect everything from a waltz version of Slade's 'Merry Christmas Everyone', to 'Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas'.

"They can also expect a Bare Naked Ladies cover to traditional carols from my native Derbyshire.

"I'll also balance it out with a few non-festive numbers from my album 'Battleplan', and previews of some new songs."

Finally, the singer revealed her plans for when her tour finishes.

"I'll head straight back to the Peaks, heat up some mulled wine, put on some Bing Crosby, and collapse in a heap of tinsel," she said.

The show starts at 8pm with tickets costing from £13.

Visit cornerstone-arts.org for more information, or call the box office on 01235 515144.

Aladdin the pantomime

PANTOMIME season has well and truly hit Witney as Travelling Light Productions brings the magical tale of 'Aladdin' to St Mary's Church this weekend.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Script writer Paul Knight brings the story of the poor and kind-hearted thief to life from tomorrow, December 5, until Saturday, December 6.

And producer and director Jenny Kane is confident it will be a huge hit with Witney's residents.

"Judging by the amount of laughter that happens during the rehearsals, it will definitely make the adults smile as well as the children," said the 39-year-old.

"This is the first time Travelling Light Productions have used St Mary's. It is a great venue with lots of atmosphere.

"The audience can expect a lot of fun and laughter as they watch a great story unfold."

The cast is completely made up of volunteers, with Jenny working as a drama and music teacher at The Kings School in Witney during the day.

All the profits go to charities The Oxfordshire West Food Bank and Adventure Plus.

Jenny added: "This is a traditional pantomime that is funny, lively, full of colour and music. It will be very enjoyable to watch."

And Stephen Moore who plays pantomime dame Widow Twankey can't wait to get going.

"I wanted to do something different", the doctor's surgery manager said.

"I love making people laugh and I thought especially as the dame, it would create a lot of laughter!"

Tickets cost from £10 to £30.

For more information about the show or for tickets, visit travellinglightproductions.co.uk.

Welcome to The Lamb Inn

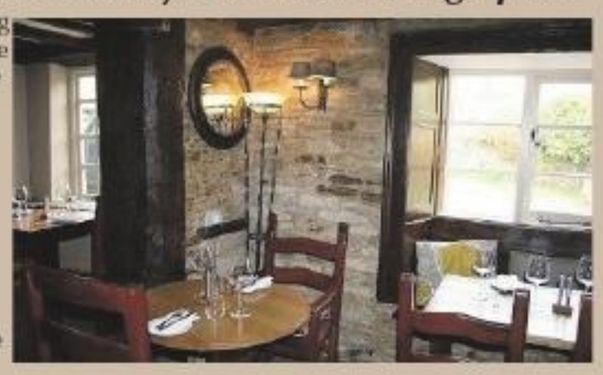
A traditional and beautiful 18th Century Cotswold village pub.

We have settled here after a number of years working in some of the finest hotels and restaurants across the UK. Our aim is to offer a relaxed, welcoming village pub with great service, ambience and creatively home cooked food, produced in our kitchen.



Enjoy the atmosphere of a classic old English inn with beams and a real log fire crackling away on a cold winters night. Settle down with a pint of your favourite Brakspears ale or whatever your favourite tipple is.

Dogs are allowed in the bar area making us perfect for all those enjoying a good country walk or ramble with well behaved four legged friends.

We support Cotswold businesses and use suppliers such as Castles Butchers in Burford, Butt's Farm near South Cerney and Cacklebean Farm Eggs near Stow on the Wold.

Whether it's a coffee, a quick pint, a light lunch following a long walk, something in your lunch hour from work or a candlelit dinner, The Lamb Inn has something for everyone. We look forward to welcoming you.

Find us on

It's the most wonderful time of the year!

IT'S now the start of December, so the countdown to December 25 is well and truly on.

We are now three weeks away from Christmas, which means you have got three weeks to make sure you have got everything planned before the big day.

I know what you are thinking, 'three weeks? That is plenty of time!'

However, if you leave everything too late, weeks turn into days, days turn into hours and before you know it, it's Christmas Eve and nothing has been prepared.

This is the last thing we want to happen to you.

We want everyone of you to enjoy Christmas this year, by getting the presents, decorations and food that is right for your plans and preparations.

At Christmas, you want to spend quality time with the ones that you love and cherish the most, and we want you to achieve that.

So we spoke to a few businesses around the county, to see how they can put your Christmas dilemmas to rest.

French manufacturers Citroën unveil the new eye-catching C4 Cactus crossover

It's no SUV or regular hatchback

CITROËN'S new C4 Cactus sports an unusual name and equally unusual design – but what is it exactly?

Despite the semi-raised ride height, the beefed up plastic bumpers and wheel arches, it's not an SUV, or a regular hatchback.

FACTS at a glance

Citroën C4 Cactus PureTech 110 S&S Flair
Price: £17,190
Engine: 1.2-litre three-cyl turbo
Transmission: Five-speed manual, front-wheel drive
Power/torque: 108bhp/205Nm
0-62mph: 9.3 seconds
Top speed: 117mph
Economy/CO2: 60 mpg/107g/km
Tank range: 661 miles
Insurance category group: 16

REVIEW: Citroën C4 Cactus
By Philip Shoulder

A crossover would perhaps be a more accurate description, putting it in competition with the likes of Nissan's Juke.

The eye-catching exterior's key feature is the unique Airbump technology – black plastic moulded side panels, designed to protect the Cactus' flanks from parking dents and scratches.

A plethora of exterior personalistion options, including different door mirror colours and alloy wheel styles, are offered on all three different trim levels - Touch, Feel and Flair.

The equally stylish interior is decluttered and minimalist, with very little switchgear, aside from two LCD displays.

Stand out features are the 'Top-Box' storage compartment, and door handles inspired by leather luggage straps.

All Cactus models come as standard with a four-speaker audio system, DAB tuner and Bluetooth media streaming, as well as air-conditioning, seven-inch touchscreen and cruise control.

Once behind the wheel, most people will find the driving position to be comfortable, although the steering wheel adjusts for height but not reach.

The Cactus boasts a spacious cabin and the 358 litre boot is large and well shaped, although would benefit from a false floor to bridge the entrance lip.

The New Citroën C4 Cactus gets six different engines.

All diesel models are sub-100g/km of CO2 and are eligible for free VED, in addition to a VED-exempt petrol version – the PureTech 82 S&S ETG.

This 108bhp 1.2-litre turbo petrol picks up eagerly from low revs and enjoys being worked hard, while the 80bhp version is better suited for urban journeys.

The manual gear shift isn't the slickest in town, but the car's more comfort orientated setup results in a smooth and forgiving ride.

Refinement impresses, too.

Verdict:

Citroen's new C4 Cactus is a master of bold, clever design, functionality and weight saving efficiency.

Treading Dangerously

As Weather Worsens, New Research Finds One in Ten Cars Haven't Had Their Tyres Checked For a Year

MORE than 62 per cent of the UK's drivers are unaware of the legal minimum tyre tread depth and one in ten (12 per cent) haven't checked their tyres in the last year, according to new research carried out by leading used car website NFDA www.trusteddealers.co.uk Trusted Dealers.

Despite the success of October's fifth annual Tyre Safety Month, the research, which surveyed 1,000 motorists on how regularly they undertake essential tyre maintenance, showed little more than a third of the road users know that the minimum tyre tread depth should be 1.6mm. When equated to the 30m motorists on British roads this means more than 18m drivers have no idea if their tyres are roadworthy.

The survey also revealed a shocking 12.4 per cent of drivers last checked their tyre tread depth more than a year ago - even though fortnightly checks are advised to ensure safety and avoid potential fines of up to £2,500 plus three penalty points for illegal tyres.

According to figures released by the Driver & Vehicle Standards Agency (DVSA), more than 2.2 million cars failed their MOT test last year due to the condition of their tyres. Whilst figures released by the Department for Transport (DfT) showed that more than 968 UK road casualties in 2013 were caused because of illegal, defective or under-inflated tyres.

Neil Addley, director of franchised dealer-owned used car website NFDA Trusted Dealers, said:

"It's worrying that so many drivers are unaware of how to ensure their tyres are roadworthy, particularly when you consider the fact that these four pieces of rubber are the only things separating you from the road.

"As we approach the winter months, tread depth becomes even more important. Although 1.6mm is the minimum legal tread depth, we often advise investing in new tyres once the tread reaches 3mm to ensure safety. You can reduce stopping distance by more than a car length when breaking on tyres with a 3mm tread depth, rather than the legal minimum of 1.6mm. We'd always recommend drivers replace their tyres before they become fully worn.

"An easy way to safeguard against dangerous tyres is to remember to check tread depth and tyre pressure the first time you fill up with fuel each month. If you have any queries, concerns or if you're simply looking for advice on your tyres then get in touch with your local franchised dealer, who will be able to help. You can also sign up at our website for a free 'Tyre Tread Depth Checker'. This handy credit card-sized device can be kept in your purse or wallets to make sure you're always reminded."

NFDA Trusted Dealers recommends drivers undertake the following checks when filling their tank for the first time each month:

Tyre Tread Depth: Trusted Dealers has produced a free handy credit card-sized guide to measure tread depth which you can request by visiting www.trusteddealers.co.uk/tyres. Alternatively, you can use the quick 20p test to check this. Insert a 20p coin into the lowest tread depth of your tyres. If you can't see the outer rim around the edge of the coin, then your tyre is safe and has a minimum of 3mm tread depth. If you can see the rim then your tyre tread is less than 3mm and should be checked by a professional.

Tyre Pressure: Trusted Dealers recommends checking your pressure (including the spare tyre) weekly or at least monthly to increase road safety and prolong the life of the tyres. The correct tyre pressure can usually be found printed on the inside ledge of the driver's door or inside the petrol cap. To check the pressure, take off the dust cap on the valve, fix on the pressure gauge and take a note of the result. Then inflate to the required pressure and reconnect the dust cap.

If you have any concerns about your tyres, your local franchised dealer will be able to help. Register for your free tyre tread depth checker at www.trusteddealers.co.uk

Burnell encouraged by Exiles' progress

LONDON Welsh head coach Justin Burnell believes his side are making progress after an encouraging display against reigning Aviva Premiership champions Northampton Saints last Sunday.

The Exiles were condemned to a ninth-straight league defeat following last week's 43-14 loss at the Kassam Stadium.

However, despite all the positives in their attacking play, Welsh were left to rue the first half sinbinning of Ricky Reeves as Saints racked up three tries in the prop's absence to take a commanding lead.

Burnell, who was also encouraged by what he saw in the 26-5 defeat to Leicester Tigers a week previously, saw plenty of positives in last Sunday's performance.

He said: "People spoke about last week's performance against Leicester, but I thought we made better progress on Sunday.

"We had some good intent, we had some good go-forward and our speed of ball was good.

"It was a vast improvement from where we have been.

"I was pleased with certain aspects of the game."

Burnell added: "I do think we'll pick up some wins.

"When we came in to the league the pace and physicality hit us for six at the start, but we're now making a steady progression.

"We're a very honest bunch and you can see it.

"We won't roll over and we didn't on Sunday."

Despite enjoying lots of possession and threatening the Saints line, Welsh trailed 12-0 when they went a man down in the 35th minute.

Burnell added: "Against team like Northampton – a quality outfit – you just can't do it.

"We had ball, we had good intent, and then to concede the points like we did.

"Discipline is a major factor and at this level when you go to 14-men gaps will appear and that's what happened."

May frustrated by Exiles' indiscipline

TOM May said London Welsh paid for their indiscipline as they went down 43-14 to Northampton Saints last Sunday.

Welsh trailed 12-0 when Ricky Reeves saw yellow in the 35th minute and the reigning champions ruthlessly exposed their one man advantage to run in three tries either side of the half-time whistle.

May said: "It's tough enough to play against Northampton with 15-men let alone 14. We ultimately paid for that.

"We made some improvements; we need to keep hold of the ball in the right areas of the field.

"But they're a top team and they're not going to let us off the hook.

"Our indiscipline cost us."

He continued: "We have to be on top of our game, whether that be defensively or in attack, and our discipline.

"We can't let teams have easy access to the ball.

"There's bits to take from all over the game."

London Welsh take a break from the Aviva Premiership on Sunday and make the journey to the Murrayfield Stadium to take on Edinburgh Rugby in the European Rugby Challenge Cup.

Thumping win for City versus Lewes in FA Trophy

OXFORD City thrashed Lewes 6-1 at home on Saturday to move into the first round of the FA Trophy.

Three goals in the first quarter of an hour courtesy of Felipe Barcelos, Adi Yussuf and Alejandro Santiago gave City a commanding lead.

Nick Wheeler pulled a goal back for the visitors just before the break to keep them in the match.

But second half goals from Santiago, Kynan Issac and Declan Benjamin ensured that it will be City who face Wimborne Town in the first round of the competition on December 13.

It was City's third win in succession in all competitions, and are unbeaten since their defeat against North Ferriby United on November 1.

And City currently sit seventh in the Conference North standings with 31 points after 20 games.

They are not in action this weekend, with the FA Trophy fixture being their next game, before returning to league action versus Hyde on December 20.

Rose finds some positives in draw

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

OXFORD United midfielder Danny Rose said there were plenty of positives to take from last Saturday's 1-1 draw at Cheltenham Town, but admitted it was an opportunity missed.

United are four games unbeaten in all competitions and lie 19th in Sky Bet League Two.

Cheltenham keeper Trevor Carson kept United at bay last weekend as the Robins started life under new manager Paul Buckle with a draw.

But Rose believes United deserved to come away from Whaddon Road with more than a point.

The 26-year-old told the club: "There are plenty of positives to take from it and the only negative is that we conceded a goal.

"But we reacted better (to the goal) than we have done in the past and that is a big positive to take."

Rose added: "We knew they were always going to have their tails up and want to try and impress the new manager.

"They did start quite brightly but I think we dealt with it pretty well.

"We dominated for 70 minutes of the game and we feel a bit upset that we should have come away with the three points."

Cheltenham took the lead on 51 minutes through Byron Harrison but United took little time to respond with Tyrone Barnett drilling home an equaliser nine minutes later.

Michael Appleton's side dominated the remainder of the game but Callum O'Dowda, Joe Riley and Danny Hylton were all denied by Carson to leave the score at 1-1.

Barnett, who has now scored three goals since joining on loan in September, felt a win would have put United in good shape ahead of Saturday's FA Cup second round tie at home to Tranmere Rovers.

The 29-year-old said: "I thought we were unlucky not to come away with three points.

He added: "We're so disappointed not to get the win, it would have been even better going into the FA Cup."

Susie promoted to Williams' official test driver

WILLIAMS Martini Racing have appointed Susie Wolff as their official test driver for the 2015 season.

The 31-year-old will drive in two free practice sessions and two test days during next season, as well as conducting simulator work for the team's 2015 and 2016 cars.

It comes after the Scottish racer took part in free practice at the British and German Grands Prix this year.

"This is another step in the right direction for me," said Wolff.

"I am delighted Williams are recognising my progression, hard work and that it is performance that counts.

"Williams is at a very exciting stage in its history and we are moving into 2015 with fantastic momentum.

"I'm proud to be part of the team."

Claire Williams, deputy team principal, said: "We are delighted to have Susie continuing with the team next season in this new role.

"She continues to impress us with her strong technical knowledge, the feedback she delivers, and the performance when she drives the car both on track and in the simulator.

"We have a very strong and stable driver line-up for 2015 and this will be a key asset as we look to build on a positive 2014 season."

Ardley succumb to Bracknell defeat

AN EARLY goal wasn't enough for Ardley United on Saturday, as they fell to a 3-2 defeat at home to Bracknell Town on Saturday.

Luke Ingram opened the scoring for Ardley in the second minute as he placed his shot past Bracknell keeper Garry Aulsberry.

But Bracknell levelled the scores 15 minutes later when a mis-controlled clearance led to Sam Whiting grabbing a goal.

Five minutes later Bracknell were ahead as Scott Drummond-Bayne fired a powerful shot into the far corner, although it wasn't long before Ardley equalised through Jon Gardner.

The match looked set for a stalemate, but Jake White scored in the dying moments to ensure all three points went back to Berkshire.

Elsewhere, Oxford City Nomads lost 4-2 away to Highworth Town, Milton United were thumped 6-0 by Flackwell Heath, and Kidlington's match against Highmoor Ibis was postponed.

This Saturday sees Ardley travel to Cheltenham Saracens, Kidlington host Brimscombe & Thrupp, while Oxford City Nomads play Milton United.

Rugby returns

RUGBY: Oxford Harlequins, Grove and Witney rugby clubs return to action this Saturday after having had last weekend off.

Harlequins are at home to Exmouth in the National League 3 South West, and will be hoping to make amends for their heavy 53-5 defeat to Redingensians last time out on November 22.

In the South West 1 East, Witney travel to Windsor while Grove make the trip to face Newbury Blues.

Hawks defeat

HOCKEY: Oxford Hawks missed out in their game against London Wayfarers on Saturday, losing the match 4-3.

Kit Cutter scored once and George Creed twice for the Hawks, but it was not enough for them to avoid defeat to the Wayfarers.

There was also disappointment for Oxford University as they were beaten 3-2 by Lewes.

It means that Hawks are now fifth in the South Hockey League Premier 1 standings, while University are in ninth position.

New coach

RUGBY LEAGUE: Oxford RL have announced Tim Rumford as their new head coach.

Rumford was previously head of the Castleford Tigers Academy, and has also had experience as an assistant coach at Gateshead Thunder.

He said: "I will be focused on building upon a strong culture at Oxford, and I'm totally committed to the progress of the club and players."

Stars struck by Redskins

OXFORD City Stars lost for the 14th time this season on Sunday as they were defeated 8-4 by National Ice Hockey League 1 leaders Streatham Redskins.

Stars had got off to a strong start and took the lead with an early powerplay, with player/coach Darren Elliott scoring from James Pentecost's pass.

But the lead lasted for just one minute as Michal Oravec fired home a shot for Redskins, before taking the lead 10 minutes later through Joe Allen.

Steven Fisher made it 3-1 and Jack Tarczyzki 4-1 for Streatham before Stars were finally able to hit back as Elliott grabbed his second of the match.

Again Fisher extended the advantage as he picked up his second and third goals of the game to give Redskins a 6-2 lead.

Stars were able to stage a mini comeback as Joe Edwards and Josh Oliver cut the deficit to two.

But Fisher completed his sensational game by adding a fourth and a fifth to his tally to give Redskins the 8-4 win.

BIG WIN FOR U'S AGAINST ASCOT

Ackling believes his side has 'turned a corner' after victory

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

GARY Ackling is confident Abingdon United's season has taken a turn for the better after last Saturday's thumping 4-1 win over Ascot United in the Hellenic Premier Division.

Jimmy Deabill (2), Kieran Cochrane and Tom Melledew were on the scoresheet as United claimed their third win of the season.

It was Ackling's second league win since taking over a month ago and, after beating third-placed Ascot last weekend, he is confident his side have taken a step in the right direction.

He said: "I would like to think we have turned a corner but in football you never know.

"There was certainly an air of confidence about Saturday that I have not seen before so we are pretty confident we have turned a corner now."

Ackling signed Oxford City defender Ben Brown on a month's loan at the end of last week and believes the centre-half played a big part in the win.

He continued: "Ben came in and made huge difference at the back.

"We know he is a quality player, we had him at Wantage, and that was one of the areas we needed to strengthen.

"It is only a month's loan but his experience and quality will be invaluable."

Ackling also said he would consider extending Brown's loan if the opportunity was there to do so.

"That's down to Oxford City," he said.

"We're grateful for them to agree the loan with us but if there is a chance we would like to extend it."

United were in action against Littlehampton Town in an FA Vase second round replay tie as the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print last night.

Depending on the result, Ackling's side will face either Shrivenham in the Hellenic Premier Division, or go against Ashford United in the third round of the FA Vase on Saturday.
